ABOUT

Experienced frontend developer with focus on building scalable and optimized frontend products, solutions and systems, to meet cutting edge market requirements. I'm focused on contributing my best to companies and individuals I have worked with, and hope to work with.

EXPERIENCE

I have in due time gained an extent of expertise through my consistent use and practice of necessary skill I need to implore for becoming more productive and efficient, and in a bid to achieve this, put in necessary efforts to build my knowledge-of-use as much as possible. I have worked on a few projects in collaboration, and a full project myself, here is a brief look into the latest project I worked on aside my personal development projects outlined on my github profile.

FOURTHSTREAM

Fourthstream Capital | November 2020- April 2021

- This project was a forex investment web application.
- I worked as the principal frontend developer through out the period of the contract.
- Worked closely with the backend dev to implement necessary units, and bring about uniformity that can work with his features.
- I was also responsible for site scalability and user experience features, implemented necessary components to ensure smooth UX, and an optimized UI.
